Hi

I sincerely apologize for intruding into your privacy unannounced.
My name is Annabella Xio DANTE, UN Staff working at the UN Independent Station (Office of Human Right Commission Satellite Station) United Kingdom. I got your contact from UK archives and global data centre.

Together, my friend and I have a propositional offer that involves Trust Management and we are inviting you to assist us to receive the liquidity, pioneer and manage the investment for us, as we are not in a position of doing so according to our jobs ethics. As UN staffs currently serving, we are not required to accept gift of any kind nor own more than 10,000 USD in our respective bank account, hence our plea to be represented by a trust worthy person to most importantly hold this money in trust and invest the sum for us.

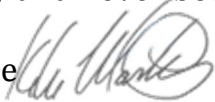

We have the sum within our possession in a large value of US currency ready for the venture.

As soon as I hear from you, further details regarding the transaction will be provided to you.

We are ready to reward handsomely for your role in securing and receiving the liquidity for us before the investments.

We presume it will interest you to contact us back; otherwise I beg of you to delete this email permanently and never bother to contact me back:

I look forward to your response

N.B It is notified to us by my Friend/Financial expert about false pretences of our similar proposal circulating the internet for some sort of selfish interest, so on this note, we kindly disassociate our selves from those.
