This is a test document printed from Debian's OpenOffice.org 1.1.0-2 with Helvetica font. This is the font that Arial should have been replaced by during print. If you view the source of this output, you will see that the Helvetica font is used, and no font is embedded. You will also see that the output is far smaller than the comparable Arial output.